

Graham Herbert

Teaching and Training the next generation of pastor-teacher-evangelists in Eastern Europe and Central Asia

At the Eurasian Mission College - Kazan in Tatarstan, Russia.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Following 24 years in regular C of E Parish and Schools' ministry in the UK Graham has been working for the last ten years as a teacher-trainer in Eastern Europe and Central Asia. This task has taken him to many different countries. He now has a significant and strategic opportunity teaching at the Mission College in Kazan, Tatarstan in southern Russia working under the direction of Tim McMahon, Director of Eurasian-Ministries UK www.eurasian-ministries.org

Following teaching trips in April 2009 (Old Testament) and January 2010 (Acts of the Apostles) there is a need for teaching trips in April, September and December to teach at the Kazan Mission College and in satellite churches. As well as teaching Graham would be concerned to strengthen and encourage the students and pastors. Many are hard pressed and have to overcome the most difficult and demanding living conditions.

THE TASK

Pastors and students come to the Mission College in Kazan eager to study the Bible and to be equipped for the task of taking the Gospel to all people groups ...

To the Tatar and Russian people ...

... beyond and into Uzbekistan, Tajikistan, Kazakstan ...

... and with courage into fundamentalist Islamic states and strongholds ... Afghanistan, Iraq, Iran.

The pastors and students are tough, committed and need our help. Please use this sheet to pray.

SUPPORT

Most Missions are now realising the strategic value of in-country theological education for next generation leaders. Graham is actively seeking support to finance each individual teaching trip. The average cost of one trip is £1,352 (which covers visa, flights, travel, in-country expenses and teaching costs). If you or a set of friends, church group or business would like to be involved in helping to sponsor a trip or would like news for prayer please be in touch with Graham or with Eurasian Ministries 27 Hoynors Close, Danbury, Chelmsford, CM3 4RL 01245 227 941 www.eurasian-ministries.org email: tim.mcmahon@eurasian-ministries.org.
